The Crimson Flame Ritual of the Heart

When the Moon is waxing and the night is still, prepare an altar covered with a crimson cloth. Place a red candle at its center, symbol of the fire of the heart, and a fresh rose, emblem of sincere desire.

Before beginning, calm your mind and focus upon the qualities of the love you seek: devotion, passion, understanding, kindness, and harmony. Seek not to bind any specific person, but to open the pathways through which destiny may guide true affection toward you.

Required Items

- One red candle
- One red rose
- A small piece of parchment or paper
- A pen with red ink
- A few drops of rose water

The Ritual

1. Light the red candle and say:

“May the sacred flame illuminate the hidden paths of the heart.”

2. Upon the parchment, write the qualities you desire in a loving companion.
3. Place three drops of rose water upon the parchment.
4. Hold the rose between your hands and visualize a radiant crimson light surrounding your heart.
5. Recite the following Latin incantation three times:

Ignis amoris, cor meum illumina.
Viae fortunae ad me aperiantur.
Anima concordis ad vitam meam veniat.
Per flammam rubram et stellas noctis,
amor sincerus inveniat viam suam.

Translation

Fire of love, illuminate my heart.
May the pathways of destiny open before me.
May a harmonious soul come into my life.
Through the crimson flame and the stars of the night,
may true love find its way.

1. Fold the parchment and place it beneath the candle until the ritual is complete (never leave a burning candle unattended).
2. Keep the folded parchment in a secret place for one full lunar cycle.

Closing Words

To conclude, say:

“That which is destined for my happiness approaches freely and in harmony. So let it be.”

Extinguish the candle and depart in silence, allowing the energies of the ritual to settle.
